Westlaw can help you prepare your brief and oral argument for moot court. This quick reference guide shows you where to find expert advice on writing an effective appellate brief and developing a successful oral argument, how to search for the legal authority you need to support your contentions, and how to expand and update your research with KeyCite®.

The Appellate Brief

Articles about effective brief writing
The purpose of an appellate brief is persuasion. As the authoring attorney, it is your job to persuade the court that your arguments should prevail and that the relief sought should be granted. Westlaw includes many articles and texts that provide guidance on how to write a persuasive brief. A few of these articles are listed below. As you consider the advice given in these articles, remember to follow your competition rules and the guidance provided by your instructor.

- Steven R. Merican, Thoughts from an Unconstrained Practitioner: Writing an Appellate Brief, or, How to Make Tax Law an Interesting Read, 19 DCBA Brief 10 (Mar. 2007)

To retrieve an article on Westlaw, use the Find service when you know the citation. For example, to retrieve 34 UCLA L. Rev. 431, type 34 ucla l rev 431 in the Find by citation text box in the left frame of the tabbed Law School page, then click Go. The Find service is available in the left frame of most tabbed pages.

To retrieve additional articles and texts that discuss effective brief writing, access the Texts and Periodicals–All Law Reviews, Texts, and Bar Journals database (TP-ALL). Restrict your search to the title field (ti), and type

\texttt{ti(effective winning writing /5 brief)}

\textbf{Quick advice from the judiciary}
In the panel discussion What Appellate Advocates Seek from Appellate Judges and What Appellate Judges Seek from Appellate Advocates, U.S. Court of Appeals Judge Robert Baldock described the qualities he likes to see in a brief:

\ldots a terrific brief that I enjoy is one that is very precise and gets to the point of the issues that have been raised, so that I know exactly what it is that you claim as an appellant. The brief needs to identify what the alleged reversible error is, taking into consideration the standards of review that we have to apply, because that standard in many instances determines the outcome.

And in \textit{The Seven Sins of Appellate Brief Writing and Other Transgressions}, U.S. Court of Appeals Judge Harry Pregerson lists his seven sins of brief writing: long, boring briefs; incoherent, unfocused, and disorganized briefs; string citations and other poor use of authority; briefs with abusive language; briefs that ignore the standard of review or attempt to relitigate the facts; briefs that ignore jurisdiction; the last minute emergency motion—usually filed at 4 p.m. on a Friday, before a holiday

\textbf{Use Westlaw to Find the Law}
Westlaw offers two search methods to search for documents—Natural Language and Terms and Connectors. In addition, you can use KeySearch\textsuperscript{®} to identify key numbers and terms related to your legal issue.

\textbf{Natural Language search method}
The Natural Language search method allows you to use plain English to retrieve relevant documents. Enter a description of your issue to retrieve the documents that best match the concepts in your description.

To retrieve U.S. courts of appeals cases that discuss the standard of review for exclusion of expert testimony at trial, access the U.S. Courts of Appeals Cases database (CTA). If Natural Language is not already selected, click the Natural Language tab, then type

\texttt{standard of review for excluded expert testimony}

\textbf{Terms and Connectors search method}
With the Terms and Connectors search method, you enter a query consisting of key terms from your issue and connectors specifying the relationship between those terms. For example, you can require that your key terms appear in the same sentence or paragraph.

To retrieve Illinois state cases that discuss the standard of review on appeal of a summary judgment, access the Illinois Cases database (IL-CS). If Terms and Connectors is not already selected, click the Terms and Connectors tab, then type

\texttt{“summary judgment” /s scope standard /3 review}
KeySearch

KeySearch is a search tool, powered by the West Key Number System®, that identifies key numbers and terms based on the topics you select from an easy-to-use list of topics. KeySearch then runs a query created by a West attorney-editor. It retrieves documents that contain key numbers, such as cases with West headnotes, as well as documents that don’t contain key numbers, such as law review articles and cases without West headnotes. To access KeySearch, click Key Numbers at the top of any page, then click KeySearch under Browse Key Numbers.

Get the Most Recent Cases with WestClip®

WestClip runs your Terms and Connectors searches at the frequency (e.g., daily, weekly) you select and delivers the results to you automatically. Use WestClip to receive citations of newly decided cases and other documents that may have a bearing on your argument. To create a WestClip entry, click Alert Center at the top of any page. At the Alert Center Directory, click Create Entry in the WestClip section, then enter information at the WestClip: Create Entry page. To set up a WestClip entry while viewing a Terms and Connectors search result, click Add Search to WestClip at the top of the result list.

Learn from Other Briefs

Briefs databases

Westlaw includes thousands of appellate court briefs that are contained in a variety of jurisdictional and topical databases. Use briefs on Westlaw to learn how other attorneys have analyzed and argued issues similar to the ones you are arguing on appeal. Briefs can also provide insight into how opposing counsel might argue the other side of the case.

Click a link under Briefs in the Resources section of the Law School page to display a database Search page. You can also use the Westlaw Directory to access additional topical and jurisdictional databases. Click Directory at the top of any page, then click Briefs under Litigation. Click a database name to display the Search page for that database or click a folder name to view additional databases.

Moot court competition briefs

To view briefs submitted in prior competitions, access the TP-ALL database. Restrict your search to the prelim (pr) and title (ti) fields, and type

pr,ti(“moot court”)

Check Your Citations and the Citations Relied Upon by Opposing Counsel

Use KeyCite to check your citations

As you research, use KeyCite to make sure that your cases and statutes are good law and to find new citing references that update your research. Use KeyCite to determine whether cases and statutes cited by opposing counsel are valid or have been criticized.

Use WestCheck.com® to automatically check your citations

WestCheck.com, an automated Web-based citation-checking tool, extracts citations from a word-processing document, checks the citations in KeyCite, and provides you with a results report. Access WestCheck.com at www.westcheck.com.

Monitor citations with KeyCite Alert

KeyCite Alert automatically notifies you when a new document is added to Westlaw that changes the KeyCite result for authority you’ve cited in your brief.
Verify Quotations
Before you submit your brief, check the accuracy of quotations by comparing the text in your brief to the text on Westlaw. For example, suppose that you want to check the following quote from K.H. Through Murphy v. Morgan, 914 F.2d 846, 849 (7th Cir. 1990): “Once the state assumes custody of a person, it owes him a rudimentary duty of safekeeping no matter how perilous his circumstances when he was free.”

Use a pinpoint citation
One way to access the quoted text is to use the Find service with the pinpoint citation. For example, at the Law School page, type 914 f2d 849 in the Find by citation text box and click Go. Westlaw will retrieve the case at page 849. Browse the page for the quoted language and compare it to the text in your brief.

Use the Locate feature
Alternatively, you can use the Locate feature to access the quoted text after you retrieve the case. For example, type 914 f2d 846 in the Find by citation text box and click Go. When the case is displayed, click Locate in Result in the left frame. At the Locate Search Terms page, type duty /s safekeeping in the Locate text box and click Locate. To view the Locate terms, which are highlighted, click the Term arrows. Now you can check the text of the quote in your brief against the text on Westlaw.

Oral Argument
As a moot court participant, you are required to participate in an oral argument. In actual practice, courts are generally quite selective in providing an opportunity for oral argument. When the opportunity for oral argument presents itself at the request of counsel or the court, you have a special opportunity to persuade the court that your arguments should prevail and the relief you seek should be granted.

Articles that discuss effective oral argument
Listed in the next column are some articles that provide tips for effective oral argument. As you consider the advice given in these articles, remember to follow your competition rules and the guidance provided by your instructor.

To search for additional articles that discuss effective oral argument, access the TP-ALL database. Using the Terms and Connectors search method, restrict your search to the title field (ti). Type ti(prepar! effective win winning succe! tip guide! /s “oral argument”)

Check again with KeyCite
Before you present your oral argument, use KeyCite to make sure that the authority you have cited is good law and to check the status of authority relied upon by opposing counsel.

Review U.S. Supreme Court oral arguments
You may find it helpful to review transcripts of oral arguments made before the U.S. Supreme Court. They are available in the Transcripts of U.S. Supreme Court Oral Arguments database (SCT-ORALARG).

To retrieve a transcript by party name, restrict your search to the title field (ti). For example, to retrieve the transcript for eBay Inc. v. MercExchange, L.L.C., access SCT-ORALARG and type ti(ebay & mercexchange)

To search for a transcript by issue, use the Natural Language or Terms and Connectors search method. For example, to retrieve transcripts that discuss whether the consent of one occupant is sufficient for the search of a shared residence, type a Natural Language search such as the following:

is consent of one occupant sufficient for search of shared residence
