

See the research results about Westlaw for yourself.

At West, we strive to provide legal professionals the research tools they need to be more efficient and get better results faster. Maybe that's why, in several recent independent third-party studies, legal researchers chose Westlaw® over any other online legal research service.

American Bar Association Study (Jan-May 2008)

Lawyers were asked ...
 "Which fee-based online service do you use most often for legal research?"

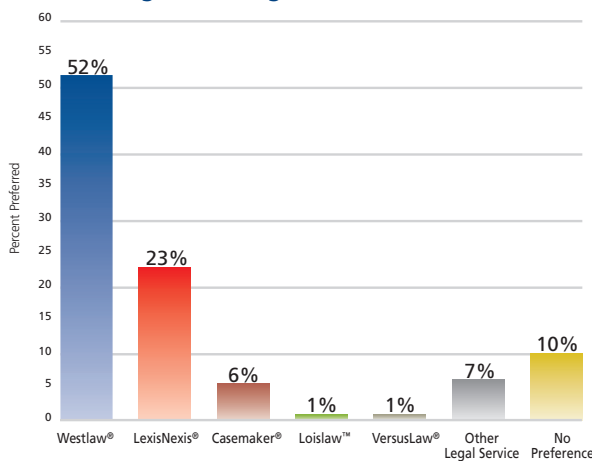

About the ABA Study
 Online survey sponsored by Thomson West and LexisNexis and conducted by the ABA Legal Technology Resource Center, January-May 2008. Respondents were ABA attorney members in private practice.
 For more information, go to: www.lawtechnology.org

*Includes RIA® Checkpoint, BNA, Loislaw, Fastcase, Casemaker, VersusLaw, and "other."

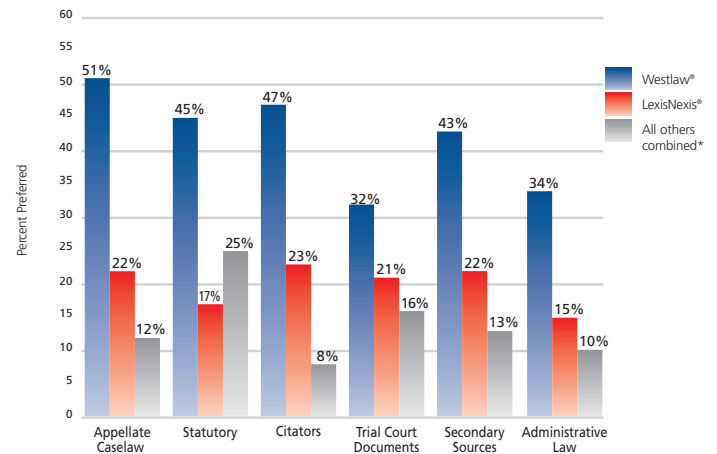

Litigator Preference Study (May 2008)

Litigators were asked ...
 "Which of the following do you prefer to use when doing online legal research?"

About the Litigator Study

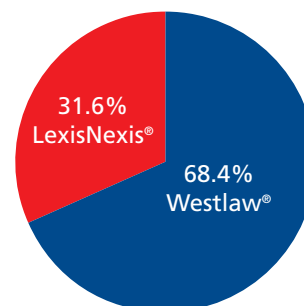

This independent third-party study sponsored by Thomson West was conducted by Lieberman Research Worldwide in May 2008. Double-blind methodology was used, and the respondents were litigators who identified themselves as active online researchers.
 For more information, go to: west.thomson.com/westlaw/advantage

* Includes Casemaker, Loislaw, VersusLaw, and other legal service. "No preference" responses omitted from chart.

Stanford Law School Study (April-May 2008)

Librarians were asked ...
 "If you have a preference for either Westlaw or LexisNexis, which do you prefer?"

About the Stanford Study

Online survey conducted by Stanford University in April and May of 2008. Distribution of the survey was through law librarian listservs. Respondents identified themselves as librarians and represented law firms, law schools, corporations, and government entities. This study was conducted independent of Thomson Reuters. One of the contributors, Paul Lomio, does separately serve on the West Academic Advisory Board.

For more information, go to: www.law.stanford.edu/publications/projects/lrps/pdf/lomiowayne-rp23.pdf

Westlaw Advantages

1. Comprehensive Legal Content

Primary Law – It's the cornerstone of legal research, and Westlaw provides exclusive access to leading primary law publications such as USCA®, the National Reporter System®, and the industry's only annotated CFR. All the same titles found in law libraries across the United States – online, all in one place.

Analytical Materials – Westlaw has the complete American Law Reports (ALR)®, one of the leading research and case-finding tools. Westlaw also includes top jurisdictional and practice area analytical resources such as Wright and Miller's Federal Practice and Procedure®, State Jurisprudence titles, Williston on Contracts®, and more.

Litigation Materials – Nobody can match West's commitment to providing litigators the materials they need most. Our comprehensive offering includes the largest online collection of Briefs (1.7 million), Trial Documents (3.6 million), and Expert Testimony, as well as access to ALM® Jury Verdicts.

2. Tools to Help You Find it Faster

Editorial Enhancements – West attorney-editors categorize, organize, and summarize the law to help you find what you need quickly and ensure that you don't miss anything. And while other legal research providers reiterate the text of the opinion, West Headnotes are written by attorney-editors and categorized within the West Key Number System®, the most comprehensive legal indexing system for caselaw.

Linking – Exclusive linking connects you to documents that would otherwise be missed. For instance, ResultsPlus® automatically links you from within a document or a search result to relevant treatises, ALR articles, and West Key Numbers. Plus, we add more than five million links to Westlaw every year, so you can get to what you're looking for faster.

Searching – Westlaw's search technology is unsurpassed because, unlike some search engines, it can precisely handle common legal phrases such as "at will" as well as more sophisticated grammatical and numeric queries. It's more helpful, too. With Smart Tools® search suggestions, Westlaw can deliver on-point results, even if you haven't constructed the perfect query.

24/7/365 Reference Attorney Assistance – Westlaw's bar-admitted reference attorneys offer world-class service and can help you find what you need. They are always available (24/7/365) – and always free!

3. Trusted Accuracy

Case Corrections – West's 22-step editorial process ensures that every arriving case is thoroughly checked for accuracy before it's posted to Westlaw. In fact, West attorney-editors make more than 100,000 case corrections every year!

KeyCite® – KeyCite provides graphical warnings for statutes that are no longer valid, while other citators do not. Perhaps that's one of the many reasons it's the citator most preferred by litigators.

To learn more about Westlaw, contact your
West Sales Representative or call 1-800-762-5272.