

PROFESSIONAL LEGAL RESEARCH

Family law is the body of law that deals with the traditional landscape of family relationships as well as important new legislation and case law relating to areas such as domestic partnerships, same-sex marriage, parentage, and adoption. This quick reference guide highlights the family law resources on Westlaw and shows you how to retrieve relevant documents.

Family Law

Family law practice typically involves issues such as those relating to marriage, divorce, child custody and support, child abuse and neglect, adoption, paternity, and other domestic-relations issues. Other areas of law, such as tax, bankruptcy, estate planning, and criminal, are often a part of the decision-making process in the practice of family law.

Family Law Resources on Westlaw

Westlaw includes an extensive collection of family law materials, including state and federal primary law, secondary sources, forms, and briefs. In each category listed below, a few key databases are highlighted. These databases and other family law–related resources can be accessed at the tabbed Family Law Practitioner page (Figure 1), or you can type a database identifier, e.g., ffl-usca for the Federal Family Law–U.S. Code Annotated database, in the Search for a database text box in the left frame. You can also click View Family Law Directory in the left frame to display the Family Law section of the Westlaw Directory.

Remember that the easiest way to retrieve a specific document when you know the citation is to use the Find service. Type your citation in the Find by citation text box in the left frame of a tabbed page and click Go.

STATE STATUTES AND COURT RULES

Statutes and court rules that relate to family law are contained in the Individual State Statutes–Annotated databases (XX-ST-ANN), where XX is a state’s two-letter postal abbreviation, e.g., CA-ST-ANN. To access a state’s child support guidelines, click a state-specific link, e.g., Ohio Child Support Guidelines, in the Statutes and Administrative Materials section. To add individual states to the Statutes and Administrative Materials section, click Edit in the right frame. Select the check boxes for states you want to add, then click Next. At the Edit: Resources page, click Save.

STATE CASE LAW

Court decisions that construe and review family-related laws and regulations are another important source of information when you research family law. State family law cases are found in the Individual State Family Law Cases databases (XXFL-CS), where XX is a state's two-letter postal abbreviation, e.g., CAFL-CS.

FEDERAL FAMILY LAW MATERIALS

Federal statutes pertaining to family law are contained in the FFL-USCA database. Cases from all federal courts, including the U.S. Supreme Court, pertaining to family law are found in the Federal Family Law–Cases database (FFL-CS).

FORMS, CHECKLISTS, AND CLAUSES

The All State and General Family Law Forms, Clauses, and Checklists database (FAMFORM-ALL) contains forms, clauses, and checklists that are helpful in the practice of family law. To retrieve forms in a particular area of family law, click a link, e.g., Custody, in the Forms, Checklists, and Clauses section of the Family Law Practitioner page.
