

ProView in the classroom

With Thomson Reuters ProView® eBooks, you and your students can access your law library anywhere, anytime. Students and faculty have access to all the titles found in your law library in a convenient eBook and – best of all – they are free as part of your law school’s Practice Ready subscription.

INTUITIVE AND EASY TO USE

Enjoy the print-like reading with the added benefits only available from an online or app experience. Search across all ProView eBooks for keywords or phrases, jump to related materials, and link out to additional content on Thomson Reuters Westlaw™ – all on a tablet that easily goes from home to class.

EASILY INCORPORATED INTO THE CLASSROOM

Easily add a link to a title or specific section of a title to your syllabus, TWEN®, or other course management tool. You can even generate a PDF of a section with notes and highlighting to share with a class. See reverse side or ask your Academic Account manager for how to incorporate ProView in the classroom.

ON THE GO

ProView lets you research and work within eBooks the same way you do with textbooks, but with the portability, convenience, and efficiency of a digital format – the ability to make notes and highlight, for example. These eBooks can be accessed via computer, phone, or tablet – anytime, anywhere – with or without Internet connection.

POPULAR TITLES

Take the library with you. With ProView, your law school library is at your fingertips including many popular titles not in your Westlaw® subscription plan such as McCormick on Evidence, White and Summers’ Uniform Commercial Code, International Business Transactions, and more. Use the trusted resources practitioners rely on daily to teach students the law.
